Description

An elegant French coffee table from the second half of the 19th century in the Louis XVI style, crafted from fine rosewood with rich inlaid decorations. The top, embellished with a refined central floral decoration and geometric filleted reserves in light woods, features two opening side flaps that expand the tabletop, making it both functional and harmonious.
The under-counter panel houses a central, lockable drawer, while the frame rests on four turned, fluted legs, joined by a shaped crosspiece with a central turned element. The workmanship is high-quality, striking a perfect balance between formal elegance and artisanal mastery.
