Description

This mechanical teddy bear made of tin was featured in the Max Carl toy catalog (Germany) as early as 1957. The mechanism still works, but in an "anarchic" way, it's a bit "when he wants to"!... The bear hits the drum with his sticks, his head and legs are also mobile, which makes him look like he's dancing on the spot. The plush toy is in very good condition, with no missing parts, and only shows slight wear under the hind legs. The drum is marked Made In Western Germany. Height = 16.5 cm, depth = 15 cm, width = 8 cm Weight = 160 grams Extremely careful shipping in addition.
