Description

"Washerwomen near the Mill" - Tapestry after Alexandre René Véron, signed Aubusson - 19th century
Superb 19th-century Aubusson tapestry entitled "Washerwomen near the Mill", after a composition by the painter Alexandre René Véron. This hand-woven work delicately illustrates a bucolic scene: two washerwomen peacefully working on the banks of a stream, overlooked by a charming wheel mill, surrounded by trees and rustic houses. The soft shades and play of light give this tapestry a poetic and soothing atmosphere, typical of 19th-century rural romanticism. Made in the renowned Aubusson workshops, this piece demonstrates exceptional craftsmanship. It is signed lower right and is distinguished by the finesse of its weaving and the richness of its palette. Dimensions: 177
