Description

Gold bangle bracelet, natural sapphires, fine pearls and diamonds - Belgian work, Napoleon III period Superb bangle bracelet in 18 carat (750 ?) yellow gold, decorated in its center with two natural unheated sapphires, of approximately 0.50 carats each, accompanied by two small rose-cut diamonds and highlighted by an elegant decoration of fine half-pearls. Notable particularity: on this type of bracelet, the sapphires are very often synthetic; here, they are indeed natural stones, confirmed by gemological examination. Belgian work from the Napoleon III period, around 1870-1880, presenting the characteristic oval structure of these bracelets, designed to perfectly fit the shape of the wrist. We can see the trace of an unidentified goldsmith's hallmark, attesting to a high-quality
