HOHM Driving School Instructional Cut-Away Model CarAn HOHM driving school instructional cut-away model car, German, 1954, large scale model, constructed from mainly metal and alloy parts, a functional model chassis, with articulating functioning controls, left-hand drive steering, lights, transmission, clutch, suspension, brakes, rolling wheels with rubber tires, with some cut-away sections and other details, mounted on an original wooden display plinth with control levers and switches, with wiring under the base.This is the earliest version I know of this model car. Later they made other versions with more plastic parts and even electric engine.This one is 1954. (Date is on the licence
