Description

I have seen a few on the web but never as elegant as the pair I am offering you. They are made of heavy brass, in the neo-Gothic style, as was fashionable in the 19th century, when the canons were inspired by the medieval style. These candle holders were used a few times in the religious congregation where they lived, well camped on their tripods, on either side of the altar. Rare objects, of high quality. Beautiful Height of 40 cm, and honorable diameter of 17 cm.
