Description

This set of five English mahogany chairs from the Victorian period dates from the second half of the 19th century. Each chair embodies the refinement and stylistic rigor of the period, with a carefully crafted solid mahogany frame. The slightly curved backrest consists of a wide band that delicately follows the shape of the back, offering both comfort and elegance. The removable seats are upholstered in a deep red velvet fabric, which contrasts harmoniously with the warmth of the wood and evokes the cozy interiors of the period. This well-preserved upholstery reinforces the noble and welcoming character of the set. The front legs are turned into a baluster, in the pure Victorian style, while the back legs adopt a saber shape, ensuring stability and balance. The set demonstrates remarkable craftsmanship. These
