

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Japanese Porcelain Satsuma Plate Meiji Period (1868-1912) 19th Century Antique Ceramics Dish

1 500 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 35.6 cm.

Height : 5.5 cm.

Description

A fine Japanese porcelain Satsuma dish. Meiji period (1868-1912). Decorated in moriage with various coloured enamels and gilt on a crackled ground with an intense and lively scene depicting two figures on a rocky outcrop next to a docked boat surrounded by water. The two figures are looking across to the other side at a person, surrounded by mythical Tengu, seated in front of a Bundai or writing table, holding up a scroll. Condition: Old overspraying to the bottom edge, probably to disguise a hairline of ca. 2.5 cm. Some small chipping to the moriage relief covering the boat. A possible restored break visible at the bottom edge (see last photo). Dimensions: Diameter 35.6 cm, height 5.5 cm. Note: A tengu is a mythical creature from Japanese folklore, often depicted as a humanoid

Dealer

Menken Works of Art

Art Asiatique

Tel : 00316-14916974

Herengracht 240

Amsterdam 1016BT

with bird-like features such as a beak or a long nose. They are known for their martial arts skills and can be seen as both protectors of mountains and forests and as tormentors. Inv. No:

MW367 Take a look at our other listings for more Asian art, antiques, etc. Worldwide registered and insured shipping.