Description

A superb walking stick, combining elegance and the nobility of its materials. The shaft is made of snakewood, prized for its dense grain and golden sheen. This rare wood, both hard and silky, gives the stick a precious and refined appearance. The pommel is made of solid 18-karat gold, hallmarked with an eagle's head. The balance between the warmth of the wood and the brilliance of the gold makes it an exceptional piece, at the crossroads of decorative art and goldsmithing. It is in excellent condition, although there is a slight chip on the horn ferrule, visible in the close-up photos. This very sturdy walking stick, a rare and precious collector's item, is perfectly usable. It measures 35,04 inches in length. France, dating from the early 20th century.
