Description

Pair of neoclassical Lombard chests of drawers. Made of walnut and fir, they have three drawers on the front, one inserted in the band under the top and two larger ones without visible chain. Completely veneered in rosewood with rosewood borders, maple fillets and inlays in various woods. In the band under the top there is an inlaid motif with a necklace of beads with cameos held by galls on which flower baskets rest, in the reserves of the front and sides a rosette with inlaid popular figures, on the tops a rosette with a musical panoply, on the uprights ending in truncated pyramidal feet inlaid candelabras with stucco background.
