Description

A Spanish cabinet on its original Renaissance-style base, dating from the early 20th century. It features eight drawers in the front. Made of ebonized wood, it boasts high-quality bronze mounts. The keyhole escutcheons are adorned with angel heads. The carrying handles are shaped like faun heads, and there is an angel within a bronze frame on the central drawer. The claw feet are exquisitely chiseled. The cabinet is beautifully crafted with dovetail joints on the drawers. Each drawer is veneered in Bakelite to imitate tortoiseshell. All drawer locks are functional. The base is beautifully turned in a beaded fashion, with interlacing floral bronze decoration. A fine cabinet entirely in keeping with Renaissance-era designs. Dimensions: 93 cm long, 42 cm deep,
