Description

A very beautiful antique tablecloth in pure linen and silk damask, featuring a sumptuous hunting scene: riders, a pack of hounds, hunting horns, and lively landscapes woven with remarkable fineness. This iconic composition of 19th-century formal linen reflects the exceptional art of French weaving. At its center, an antique monogram embroidered in red enhances the whiteness of the linen and lends the piece a unique character, typical of linens from estates or castles. The fabric, with its luminous satin sheen, has a superb drape and remarkable linen density, evidence of a very fine antique trousseau. Dimensions: 3m x 2m Period: 19th century Composition: Damask linen Motif: Hunting scene - riders, hounds, hunting horns, and landscapes Condition: Very good overall condition - two small, discreet old
