Description

Revolving mahogany bookcase. The understated design features a molded top with a central marquetry inlaid with shell motifs, set against a string of ebony, boxwood, and rosewood. The apron provides comfort and stability. The molded, openwork bars alternate between solid and open sections. The base rests on ball bearings and casters. It can accommodate a large number of books regardless of their arrangement. Simple, functional, and easy to position and move. Delivery is available but not included in the price.
