Description

A magnificent pair of German Shepherds in bronze. The dogs are depicted with great realism. The sculpture has a beautiful patina and a meticulous finish. It bears a foundry mark.

Pierre-Albert Laplanche (1854-1935) was a French sculptor active in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. He primarily created decorative sculptures, busts, and small bronzes. His works often belong to the academic or naturalist style typical of the Third Republic. Laplanche participated in the Salon des Artistes Français, an annual exhibition where many sculptors of his time presented their works.
