Description

A beautiful oil on canvas attributed to the Conti workshop, depicting a hunt in full swing. The riders, in red frock coats, gallop across a stream, in the precise moment when everything is at stake: the momentum, the balance, the tension of the reins, and the nobility of the mounts. The impasto, applied with a palette knife, gives depth to the scene; the light catches the vibrant white coats of the horses, while the wooded background dissolves into an autumnal mist of brown, ochre, and golden hues--a typical atmosphere for hunting mornings. This painting perfectly captures the spirit of the great huntsmen, the life of the gentleman rider, the Anglo-French equestrian tradition, and the beauty of movement. Oil on canvas. Signature Conti lower right. Canvas dimensions: 110 x 50 cm. Dimensions
