Description

Elegant Venetian Louis XV chest of drawers from the second half of the 18th century, featuring a serpentine front and the refined, understated lines typical of Venetian craftsmanship of the period. The structure is made of solid walnut, while the interior and drawer bottoms are in fir wood, in keeping with traditional 18th-century construction. It includes two small upper drawers and two larger lower drawers, with original brass fittings and cabriole legs. Its balanced proportions (maximum width 117 cm, depth 59 cm, height 83 cm) make it a graceful and well-proportioned piece. Structurally sound, it has undergone a conservative restoration, preserving the warm patina and the natural beauty of the wood. For further information, photos or technical details, please do
