

Icon Painted On Wood - Saint George Slaying The Dragon, Early 1èth - Early 1!th Century

500 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : En l'etat

Material : Painted wood

Width : 28 cm

Height : 33 cm

Description

Painted icon on wood - Saint George slaying the dragon. Folk work, Central or Eastern Europe, late 17th-early 18th century. Description: Icon painted in tempera on a single-piece wooden panel, depicting Saint George on horseback, brandishing a red banner and confronting the dragon. The princess appears on the ground, along with a small hanging crucifix, an unusual iconographic detail in popular versions of the theme. The painting is of vernacular style, probably from a rural or monastic workshop, characterized by a naive but expressive drawing, a limited palette, and direct execution on the wood without complex priming. Dimensions: 33 × 28 cm. Condition: Panel previously damaged by fire: painted face partially spared, reverse heavily charred and cracked. Losses, lifting, and

Dealer

Le sanctuaire des curiosités

Religious Arts - Curiosities - Works of Art - Haute Epoque

Mobile : +32470300329

1 Impasse de la rue des moulins

Tournai 7500

wear to the paint layer, but overall legibility preserved. Presence of a later layer of varnish or saturation (probably 20th century), giving a non-original glossy appearance. No modern repainting identifiable to the naked eye.

Unrestored icon. Please feel free to contact me for any further information or additional photos regarding the items offered for sale.