Description

Noble Lady, Plaster sculpture, 19th century
Title: Noble Lady
Technique: Plaster sculpture
Period: 19th century (first half)
Description: Elegant large plaster sculpture depicting a seated noble lady dressed in a rich 18th-century gown, finely modeled in the details of the fabric and folds. The work stands out for its refined execution and the delicate expressiveness of the face, which conveys a sense of grace and aristocratic composure. The elegant posture and rendering of the volumes highlight the sculptor's skill, who with sensitivity and formal rigor captures the essence of the noble and serene female figure. The white plaster surface gives the sculpture a uniform luminosity, enhancing the play of light and shadow on the folds of the dress and the features of the face.
Dimensions: Height 93 cm x
