

Puzzle-like Self-defense Cane.

340 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Other

Description

A defensive cane, known as a "Casse-tête" (head-breaker), dating from the late 19th or early 20th century. With its polished aluminum pommel, beneath its respectable appearance, the points of its caricatured cap become aggressive and can deliver violent blows. The shaft, made of horn and aluminum discs, is very flexible, adding or doubling the impact force. In good overall condition with signs of use. Length 81 cm. This item is available for immediate purchase, payable via PayPal. We also accept bank transfers or French checks. We do not accept sales by telephone; sales will only be conducted via email or inquiries through the Proantic messaging system. We ensure careful shipping of our items, with insurance and tracking. Shipping costs for Europe Union via Colissimo EUR25.
