Description

Edwardian sentimental locket pendant in 18 karat gold. The round, hinged medallion is decorated with a platinum floral basket set with six rose-cut diamonds. It rests on a circular background of guilloché blue enamel. This central motif is framed by a frieze of laurel leaves and knots (a symbol of attachment), itself encircled by a frieze of ivy (another symbol of attachment) on a white enamel background. The whole is highlighted by a blue enamel frieze forming scrolls around small flowers and five-armed crosses. The pendant opens to reveal a hidden antique photograph or sentimental object. Antique medallion, circa 1915, France. Owl hallmarks (later) and the goldsmith's hallmark of Bigard & Girard (active in Paris around 1910) Height (including bail): 3.4 cm - Width: 2.5 cm - Thickness: 0.4
