Description

We present this superb little purse belonging to a young girl, most likely a First Communion gift. All the metal parts are silver, chased, and the central medallion bears the initials of the young girl at the time. Note the interior, which features a clever opening mechanism for the central pocket. It is in very good condition for an object of this period. The object itself is made of ivory and is almost certainly from the 19th century. Weight: 28 grams. Shipping extra (EUR25).
