Description

An elegant print enhanced with watercolor on wove paper, after Henri Lebasque (1865-1937), depicting a young woman seated in a garden. The supple and luminous lines evoke the sensitivity of the post-Impressionist master, known for his intimate and sun-drenched paintings. The hand-applied watercolor highlights lend this print a unique softness: the delicate touches of color enliven the composition, capturing the poetry of the suspended moments so dear to Lebasque. Signed in the plate, in good overall condition. 20th century. Framed under glass.
