Description

A beautiful Black Forest cigar humidor with a two-door front, resting on a four-legged base with a shelf above. All sides are richly decorated. On the top is a kinetic sculpture of a doe running with a dog at her side. There are a few minor losses to the sculpture, which is otherwise perfectly preserved. Inside the humidor are drawers holding approximately one hundred cigars. The original key fits the lock but does not operate it. Superb overall condition for this fine piece from the Brienz school. Late 19th century. Leg length: 36.5 cm; Shelf length: 32.5 cm; Chest height: 22 cm; Depth: 18 cm; Total height: 34.5 cm
