Description

An elegant 19th-century earthenware cooler. Its octagonal shape features a molded base highlighted with a blue border. The central panels are decorated with palmettes, floral motifs, and scrollwork inspired by 18th-century Delftware. The cobalt blue on a cream background is very luminous, making it a beautiful decorative piece. This object can be used as a cooler or as a planter for a centerpiece. A work by Malicorne, inspired by 18th-century earthenware.
