Description

E. Beltrán captures the quiet poise of a resting dancer in this luminous pastel study, executed with a masterful command of tone and texture. The softly modeled figure, draped in a white cloth, emerges from a background of diffused blues and greens that evoke serenity and introspection. The artist's delicate blending and fluid linework lend the subject both sculptural presence and ethereal grace. Subtle highlights on the skin contrast with the cool atmosphere, creating a composition balanced between realism and mood. Beltrán's treatment of light and his refined handling of pastel convey an intimate, contemplative beauty typical of 20th-century Spanish figurative art, making this a captivating example of classical sensitivity expressed through modern means.
