Description

Limestone statue France, 19th century
Neo-Gothic with archaic/antiquarian influences, depicting Saint Joseph. Dimensions: H. 166 cm - W. 45 cm - D. 40 cm. Approx. 500 kg. Limestone sculpture representing a standing male figure, identified as Saint Joseph by the presence of a bouquet of lilies held against his chest. The figure is draped in a full cloak with deeply carved vertical and transverse folds. The head is missing. The hands are partially preserved; the right hand holds the bouquet, of which several fragments of stems and stylized flowers remain. The garment displays a regular treatment of the folds, characteristic of 19th-century religious statuary inspired by Gothic and Renaissance models. The surface shows traces of erosion, old losses, and remnants of soiling, indicating prolonged outdoor
