

Carved Wooden Soldier's Canteen.

850 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Description

A rare and authentic 18th-century carved wooden soldier's canteen of Pennsylvanian origin (Amish folk art). This camp canteen is a remarkable example of folk art and military history, likely dating back to the War of Independence. The canteen is richly decorated with hand-carved folk motifs. One side depicts two small birds and traditional patterns, while the other side features a large bird framed by laurel or olive branches, symbolizing peace, victory, and endurance. These hand-carved details imbue the canteen with not only functional but also cultural and symbolic significance. This antique canteen would have been carried by a soldier during camp life, serving as both a practical container and a deeply personal artifact. Today, it is a collectible piece from early Latin America, blending history,

Dealer

Le grenier du passé présent
Antiquité. Généraliste.

Tel : 0323700142

1 rue du Gué

Pavant 02310

craftsmanship, and art. Features: - Authentic 18th-century wooden soldier's canteen - Carved from a single piece of solid wood for the central section. - Folk art engravings: birds, laurel/olive branches, and motifs - Typical oval camp canteen from the Revolutionary War era. - Condition: Antique, with wear and patina consistent with age, visible in photos 9 and 10. Length 30 cm, width 21 cm, height 24 cm. This extraordinary piece is ideal for collectors of folk art, military history, and Revolutionary War artifacts. A striking addition to any museum-quality collection or a unique display piece for those who cherish historical Americana. - This item is available for immediate purchase, payable via PayPal. We also accept bank transfer or French check. - We do not conduct sales by telephone; sales will be conducted exclusively by email or inquiry through the Proantic messaging system. - We ensure careful shipping of our items, with insurance and tracking. Shipping costs via Colissimo for Europe Union: EUR25.