Description

The W. Schreiber factory, founded in 1946 in Germany, specializes in the design of high-quality wind instruments. It still exists but has shifted its focus to woodwind instruments. The flutes they produced in the early decades remain of excellent quality. The one offered here appears to be in very good original condition (a very small dent at the tip, see attached photo). However, a check-up by a specialist will allow it to reach its full sonic potential. It is presented in its original case.
