Description

A ceramic bowl, turned and decorated with a brush. The decoration features a Cubist composition. The monogram JI is applied to the reverse. Jacques Innocenti (1926-1958) belonged to the group of ceramists active in Vallauris in the post-war years. The workshops at that time developed decorations influenced by the decomposition of forms inherited from Cubism. This production testifies to the growing importance of ceramics as a medium of artistic expression in the mid-20th century.
