Description

Magnificent large Italian Capodimonte porcelain group depicting figures playing dice. A complex and elaborate scene with several figures dressed in classical attire. On the reverse, cherubs play with a basket of hearts. Its unusual size and the scene make it a highly decorative piece. Some minor damage has been repaired on the back. The tray under the dice is made of painted sheet metal. No maker's signature. Crowned N stamp. Capodimonte, circa 1900. Shipping: EUR100 within France, EUR200 within the EU, and EUR500 for the rest of the world. More pictures on our website
