Description

A Louis XV/Rococo style display cabinet, crafted from wood painted in cream and gold tones with delicate touches of pastel green. This piece is distinguished by its richly carved pediment (scrolls, flowers, acanthus leaves) and its curved lines, typical of the 18th-century style. The fully glazed door reveals an interior lined with a romantic floral motif and equipped with three glass shelves, ideal for displaying porcelain, trinkets, or collectibles. The lower section features a panel adorned with a floral garland in relief against a checkered background, enhancing the charm and elegance of the piece. The cabriole legs complete the ensemble. The cabinet shows some signs of wear that give it a harmonious patina, in the shabby chic style (one side pane of glass is cracked). Dimensions: H 188 x W 79 x D
