Description

Superb and rare Art Deco period display cabinet in straw marquetry and wrought iron, circa 1920. The lower section is mahogany with a central straw marquetry motif radiating across all sides, opening with a door. The upper section is hammered wrought iron with a door decorated with a vase of ginkgo leaves, the back panel is straw marquetry with a lotus flower design, and the upper section repeats the door motif. It features three adjustable glass shelves and a mirror at the top.
