Description

DescriptionThis signed mixed-media abstract composition presents a deep, atmospheric field of shifting blues, greens, and blacks enlivened by fine linear gestures drawn across the surface. The artist constructs the scene through layered, expressive brushwork, building a sense of depth and movement within a nocturnal palette. Sweeping white lines cut through the darker tones, while subtle accents of yellow and red introduce a controlled luminosity that animates the centre of the arrangement. The balance between opaque painted passages and freely inscribed marks suggests an interest in gesture, spatial ambiguity, and controlled improvisation. The work aligns with late 20th-century abstraction where drawing and painting converge, and colour fields are used as active environments
