Description

Large Abstract Painting/Canvas 1969. A unique and highly decorative piece, this abstract painting dated 1969 (signed "C. Elizaga") unfolds an architectural composition where colored planes and graphic signs fit together with precision. The palette of lavenders, mauves, and grayish blues, enhanced with ochres, honey, and sea green, creates a soft atmosphere. Large geometric planes, counterbalanced by symbolic motifs (black disc, double "bell tower" shape, hatching, dots), provide depth and rhythm. The superimposition of planes creates a mental landscape somewhere between modernist architecture and poetic cartography; the canvas "breathes" and beautifully captures the light. Support & Condition: Painting on canvas (contemporary black frame). Very good overall
