

18th Century Blue And White Portuguese Tile Depicting A Horse Tale

195 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : En l'etat

Material : Ceramic

Description

This original Antique Tile depicting a Horse Tale was made in Portugal in the period of 1706-1750! The tile is made of an elegant white ceramic, detailed with a glazed finish and it is decorated with a Horse Tale from the 18th century in a charming blue color. This Tile was part of a Large Tile Mural Panel. Item Details & Specifics: The late 17th century and the early 18th century was considered to be the 'Golden Age of the Tile', the so-called Cycle of the Masters. Mass production was started not just because of a greater internal demand, but also because of very large orders from Brazil. Large one-off orders were replaced by the less expensive use of repetitive tile patterns. Churches, monasteries, palaces and even houses were covered inside and outside with tiles, many with exuberant Baroque

Dealer

Blank Room Antiques
Antiquités

Mobile : +351968232442

R. Cristóvão Pires Norte 397N, elements. Note: See in the photo gallery tiles like this in big palaces and churches in Portugal. For examples of similar tiles in monuments, see the photos. Item condition: Some chips and flaws along the tile. Age weathered surfaces. Condition is appropriate for age and use. See photos for complete assessment. Date: 18th century. Country: Portugal. Material:
Almancil 8135

Earthenware. Dimensions: Height: 5.55 inches / 14.1 centimeters Width: 5.55 inches / 14.1 centimeters Depth: 0.39 inches / 1 centimeters *Please Note: This item is located in Lisbon, Portugal (EU) and will be shipped from this location. For additional shipping options or charges for countries not listed, please contact the seller. *For additional photos or information, please contact the seller.