Description

Imposing composite sculpture depicting a standing female figure, portrayed in an elegant and collected pose. The woman, with a delicate face and a downward gaze, raises both arms above her head in a gesture of veiled introspection. The soft modeling of the body and the hinted drapery that wraps the legs suggest a late Art Nouveau taste, with particular attention to the sinuosity of the shapes. The figure rests on a quadrangular base decorated on the front with a medallion in relief. Early 20th century.
