

Two-tone Metal Musician Bear Brooch, Napoleon Ii

240 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Metal

Diameter : 3,8cm

Description

This charming and whimsical round brooch, encircled by a delicate twist, depicts a silver-plated bear in high relief, playing a guitar and seated beside a bowl, against a textured and engraved gilt background of grasses. The bear's fur is realistically engraved, and the animal is highly detailed, right down to its toes! The gilt guitar provides a striking contrast to the silver bear. The craftsmanship rivals that of a piece made of precious metals! The brooch features a hinged tube with a C-shaped hook and a long pin, and is fully functional. In excellent condition with a beautiful patina, it dates from the Napoleon III period, circa 1860. Diameter: 3.8 cm. Weight: 10 g.
