Description

An elegant pair of ewers, crafted from blown and cut crystal with twisted ribs, mounted in rich, finely chased solid silver. The mounts feature a decoration of foliate scrolls, floral garlands, and oval medallions framed by Rococo motifs. The hinged lids are surmounted by sculpted fruit seeds; the sinuous handles have a graceful and balanced line. The feet are adorned with a delicate motif of acanthus leaves and palmettes, typical of the Neo-Louis XV style of the late 19th century. Excellent condition -- crystal clear, without cracks or chips, finely chased silver with a beautiful original patina.
