Description

This elegant pair of stained beechwood armchairs, made in the 1950s, is faithfully inspired by the Louis XVI style. The straight, balanced lines are characteristic of this neoclassical aesthetic, as are the fluted legs and discreet ornamentation that highlight the fine craftsmanship. The backrest and armrests, upholstered in a simple yet refined washable fabric from Cazal, provide both comfort and distinction. These armchairs combine the timeless charm of the 18th century with the quality of mid-20th-century manufacturing, making them both decorative and functional pieces, ideal for enriching an interior with a touch of classic elegance. Period: 1950 Excellent condition, restored in our workshop.
