Description

This highly decorative chandelier was handcrafted in Italy in the 1950s. It features exquisite beaded details depicting the hull, rigging, and sails, as well as an original crow's nest at the masthead, covered in tiny beads. Browse our photos to admire its intricate construction. The four bulbs are shown here with their original drip canle bulb fittings; these can be replaced with plain card ones if you prefer. Rewired. The 70 cm height is measured to the top of the upper hanging ring. A truly exceptional decorative light fixture that is sure to be a conversation starter!
