Description

Apothecary still life by Hubert Agostini, dating from the 1960s. A rare subject depicting scales, a mortar, bottles, and a book. Signed, dated, and countersigned on the back. Interesting size. A painting from the same series is available in another listing. Hubert Agostini, a painter from Marseille, attended the Marseille School of Fine Arts from 1948 to 1955. He exhibited in London, Paris, New York, and Hamburg. His paintings are part of several private collections. His painting is characterized by rich lines and a search for form, with a post-Cubist and sometimes stylized style.
