Description

This finely hand-knotted Turkmen rug showcases a classic geometric gul medallion pattern framed by intricate tribal borders. Woven from pure wool, it presents a rich palette of terracotta red, camel, and deep umber tones accented with ivory details. The symmetrical octagonal motifs represent protection and continuity, a hallmark of Central Asian nomadic artistry. The tight knotting and even pile reflect skilled craftsmanship, while the balanced repetition of forms enhances its rhythmic visual harmony. This rug combines structural precision with warmth and depth, suitable for traditional or contemporary interiors seeking authentic character and craftsmanship. Artist Handcrafted by Turkmen artisans, mid-20th century. Artist Details Turkmen weavers are renowned for their
