Description

A striking little pillbox or candy box, enameled on copper, in the shape of a dog's head or other animal, beautifully painted, with a white enamel background, a hinged brass mount, and a small internal mirror on lid (slightly worn). The back features a bouquet of flowers on a white background. A classic and documented piece from the British enamel factory of Bliston, circa 1770, period when "toys"--small gifts down to the tiniest--were fashionable. In good condition, with minimal wear and some minor, typical enamel crazing. Please examine our photos carefully. Dimensions: 3.4cm x 3.3cm. See also the market trends for these items onlast photos.
