

James Gillray - Brisk Cathartic - Hand-colored Etching -- Humphrey Edition 1804

585 EUR

Signature : James GILLRAY

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Width : 30

Height : 37

Description

James Gillray (1756-1815) "Brisk Cathartic"
England, 28 January 1804. Original etching hand-colored, published by Hannah Humphrey, 27 St James's Street, London. A satirical print, printed and colored at the time, depicting a patient sitting on a chamber pot, in a scene related to the purgative treatments of the early 19th century. Engraved signature: J. Gillray; publisher's imprint: H. Humphrey, 28 January 1804. Original colors well preserved.
Contemporary print conforming to the characteristics of the original publication.
Provenance: Purchased in the 1950s from the London art dealers Vicars Brothers Ltd, original label on the reverse. Condition: Very good condition, fresh colors. British frame from the 1950s, black mat. Ready to hang. Dimensions:

Dealer

JAD Antiquités Décoration

Généraliste

Mobile : 0638692763

979 route du château

Beuzevillette 76210

26.5/21 centimeters (visible area), 37/30
centimeters (with frame)