Description

Made of silvered brass, our reliquary is adorned with a silver figure, likely representing Saint Clare. In her hand, in a mise en abyme, she holds a monstrance identical to the one we are presenting. German work from the early 18th century. It rests on a hollow, round base decorated with raised leaves between tongue-like ornaments, to which a baluster-shaped stem is attached. The small dome at the top is also decorated with finely crafted tongue-like ornaments. In very good condition - the topmost section, which was probably once a cross, is missing. Dimensions: 39 cm high with a base diameter of 18 cm, weight: 900 g. Reference 604
