Description

Elegant rectangular mirror with carved and silver leaf wooden frame, characterized by a rich decoration with plant motifs and intertwined ribbons. The formal layout, of a decidedly neoclassical taste, features a refined cord work along the profile, culminating in the upper part with a cymatium bearing an ornamental vase sculpted in relief surmounted by a pediment of leaves and buds.On the sides, festoons and flowering branches descend vertically, framing the antique mirror, whose surface shows oxidation and burnishing typical of the original mercury, giving the piece an authentic and refined charm.The lower part is supported by small turned and carved feet, which accentuate its decorative character and verticality.
