Description

A set of glass doors that separated two rooms in a house built in 1930 in the Art Deco style. They have been fully restored and stripped, and come complete with their original glass panes, lock, handle, and hinges. Dimensions : height 268 cm, width 68 cm each, totaling 272 cm. These highly glazed decorative elements are very bright, full of balance and charm. They are ready to be installed, painted, or left in their natural wood color. Photos 2, 4, and 7 are simulations that illustrate the decorative potential of this glass set. Link toward our doors in situation
