Description

A charming richly grained oak antique side table from France, dating back to circa 1900. Crafted from solid oak, this piece embodies rustic elegance with its warm patina and timeless craftsmanship.The table features a square top with gently curved edges, supported by four intricately turned legs connected by sturdy stretchers for added stability. A carved floral apron adds a delicate touch of ornamentation, showcasing the artisan's attention to detail. Perfect as a side table, accent piece, it brings warmth and character to any space.Whether placed in a country home, a curated collector's interior, or a modern setting seeking contrast, this table offers a beautiful blend of utility and heritage.
