Description

A rare and elegant pair of Art Nouveau bar table bases, designed by the renowned architect and designer Hector Guimard, an iconic figure of the 1900 style. These models, listed in his period catalog, perfectly exemplify his creative genius and organic approach to furniture. Crafted from high-quality cast iron, the two bases display the flowing lines, plant-like curves, and architectural dynamism characteristic of Guimard's work. Every detail, from the tripod base to the relief ornamentation, illustrates the master's desire to fuse structure and decoration in a fluid movement inspired by the natural world. The signature of Charlionais - Panassier, renowned manufacturers of furniture and cast iron elements, appears in relief on the bases, confirming period production faithful to Guimard's original designs.
