Description

A superb original lithograph by Jansen, a 20th-century modern artist known for his refined and poetic compositions of seascapes, harbor scenes, and lagoon atmospheres. His work is characterized by a remarkable sense of line, stillness, and space, within a highly graphic and contemporary aesthetic. This print depicts a rare and very typical view of the Venetian lagoon: navigation pilings (bricole), traditional fishing nets and structures, a very low horizon, and calm water reflecting silhouettes vertically. A scene of great serenity, bathed in a hazy, beige light, perfectly evokes the silent magic of the Venetian lagoon, far from the tourist crowds. This is an Artist's Proof (EA), signed in pencil and numbered XXVII/XXX, from an extremely limited edition of 30, which enhances its appeal.
